KANDERS NOMINEES TO CLARUS' BOARD PRESS CLARUS

TO ADOPT GOOD CORPORATE GOVERNANCE PRACTICES

Greenwich, Connecticut, May 13, 2002 - Warren B. Kanders, Burt R. Ehrlich and Nicholas Sokolow (the "Kanders Nominees"), who collectively own approximately 5.6% of the outstanding common stock of Clarus Corporation (NASDAQ: CLRS) ("Clarus"), urge Clarus to adopt good corporate governance procedures recommended by Institutional Shareholder Services ("ISS"), a stockholder advocacy group, to protect stockholders' rights and enhance stockholder value. Mr. Kanders stated that "as with all of my prior investments, and with a view to increasing shareholder democracy, the Kanders Nominees will seek to implement good corporate governance practices endorsed by ISS, including the elimination of Clarus' staggered Board. This will make all directors accountable to the stockholders every year." In a letter to ISS, Mr. Kanders highlighted the differences between the Kanders Nominees' pro-stockholder stance, and those of the incumbent Clarus Board:

<TABLE>

<CAPTION>

Issues:	Kanders Nominees	Management's Nominees
<S>	<C>	<C>
Staggered Board of Directors:	Opposed to a staggered Board, and in favor of all directors being elected every year.	For a staggered Board consisting of three classes of directors.
Board Nominating Committee:	Favors a Nominating Committee without any management representation on such committee.	Did not have a Nominating Committee until this proxy season and a member of the committee has a consulting arrangement with Clarus.
Transactions with Clarus:	None.	Two directors have consulting and other arrangements with Clarus.
Stock Ownership by Directors:	Favors Directors owning stock as it aligns directors' interests with those of stockholders. Kanders Nominees have an approximately 5.6% interest in Clarus.	All management nominees collectively own less than 0.3%.
Management Success:	Multifold increases in investments. Have presided over Clarus while: Armor Holdings - initial investment at $0.76 per share in January 1996, current value $25.25 per share on May 9, 2002; Benson Eyecare - initial investment at $0.375 per share in January 1992, increased to $10.25 per share in summer 1995 when investment was sold; Langer, Inc. - initial investment at $1.52 per share in February 2001, current value $8.25 per share on May 9, 2002.
	over $1.7 Billion in market capitalization has been lost; over $190 million in losses have been incurred over two years; 50% reduction in revenues during 2001 compared with 2000; $36.8 million in writeoffs of purchased assets; and repricing of options for employees.

The Kanders Nominees look forward to representing the rights of all stockholders and maximizing value for all stockholders.

THE KANDERS NOMINEES STRONGLY RECOMMEND THAT YOU VOTE TO PROTECT YOUR INTEREST AS A CLARUS STOCKHOLDER BY SIGNING, DATING AND RETURNING THE GREEN PROXY CARD.
